What I've found so far are the 1AC-II VoltAlert and the 2AC VoltAlert. The former has auto power off after 5 minutes and the later is always enabled (but there's nothing about battery lifetime in the 2 pages manual). The affected model number is listed in the table below. If you own a Fluke 1AC-I (1AC-A1-I), please stop using it and send it back to Fluke for a replacement unit. If you are not the primary user of the 1AC-I please pass this notice along to the appropriate people within your organization. Product marking: Description: 1AC-AI FLUKE-1AC-I VoltAlert™ Voltage Tester Everett, Washington, March 24, 2010 — This recall does not include VoltAlert models 1AC-II, 1LAC-II and LVD2, none of which includes the battery check button or the Fluke logo on its clip, as shown below on the recalled units pictured. Identifying the product To properly identify your 1AC-I tester as a recalled product, look for the four product characteristics below. Description of the problem The testers can fail to give an indication of live voltage, resulting in the operator falsely believing the electrical power is off, posing a risk of serious injury or death from electrical shock or thermal burns. Actions Stop using the Fluke 1AC-I even if you have not experienced problems. Verify your 1AC is affected by this recall using the images above. Return your 1AC-I for a free replacement of either a Fluke 1AC-II or LVD2. Use one of the three options provided to the right of this letter under 'Three ways to submit your claim'. Phone: 888 97-FLUKE (35853) Online form Mail-in form Indicate which replacement product you would like Fluke to provide. a. Fluke 1AC-II b. Fluke LVD2. For a description of these two products see the Voltage Tester Comparison Chart. When Fluke receives your 1AC-I, we will send you, free of charge, the Fluke model 1AC-II or LVD2 that you selected. Note: If no selection is made, Fluke will automatically send a 1AC-II. We are undertaking this voluntary recall because we place tremendous importance on our customer's safety and the reputation of our products. Please accept our apologies for any inconvenience caused by this action. Sincerely, Barbara Hulit President, Fluke Corporation
